

DECODING TAX REFORM

Advising the Advisor

Friday, 3 November 2017

This week marks the official beginning of a vigorous tax reform debate. As discussed on today's webinar, AALU will continue actively working to achieve the best final product for you and your clients.

We expect the Senate to produce its own bill, which will differ in many ways from the House product. We all do our part on behalf of Americans' financial security, and need to continue to do so to ensure that members of Congress get the policy right. Let us know if you have existing relationships with your elected officials, or if you would like to reach out to them and need assistance crafting a message.

AALU exists for moments like this. Stay tuned for continuous updates as we gain more intelligence on the direction of reform, and contact us with anything we can do to serve you.

Don't Forget

Tune in Tuesday, November 7 at 11am Eastern for the next installment in our webinar series on this topic.
